

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

AN ACT to provide for the holding and the regulation of primary elections of delegates to nominating conventions, for the holding of such conventions, filling vacancies and fixing penalties for the violation of the provisions thereof.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the people of the State of Illinois represented in the General Assembly: That hereafter the nominations of all candidates for all elective State and county offices, clerks of the Appellate Courts, Representatives in Congress, Members of the State Board of Equalization, Members of the General Assembly, Sanitary District Trustees, and such municipal officers as are to be elected at the November election, by all political parties, shall be made by conventions of delegates to be elected by means of a primary election under the provisions of this act. This act shall not apply to the nomination of candidates for county commissioners in counties not under township organization and township officers. The title "political party" shall mean a party which at the last preceding presidential election, cast for its candidate for presidential elector receiving the highest number of votes at least two per cent of the total vote cast at said election.

Section 2. The County Central Committee of each political party shall designate and establish delegate districts in their respective counties on or before the third day of July, A. D. 1906, and on or before the first day of March, A. D. 1909, and every four years thereafter. Such delegate district shall consist of not more than seven (7) contiguous election precincts or election districts in as compact a form as possible, as now established or that may hereafter be established for the purpose of a general election, and shall contain, as near as may be, and not exceeding eight hundred (800) voters of any one political party, for the purpose of electing delegates to a State, Congressional, Senatorial, County or Sanitary District, and a Municipal Convention for the nomination of such municipal officers as are to be elected at the November election.

Section 3. No delegate district for the election of delegates to any County Convention shall consist of a larger area than one political town as now organized by law, or of a larger area than a Congressional township in counties not under township organization. Separate delegate districts may be established for the purpose of selecting delegates to county conventions, making such delegate districts as nearly equal as practicable, having in view the number of party voters in such districts.

Section 4. Primary elections under this act shall be held in each delegate district at the regularly established polling places in the various precincts for holding general elections on the first Saturday in August, A. D. 1906, and on the last Saturday in April, A. D. 1908, and every two years thereafter. The polls shall open and close at the same hours as provided in the general election laws for the opening and closing of the polls at general elections. Any person entitled to vote at such primary elections shall, on the day of such election, be entitled to absent himself from any service or employment in which he is then engaged or employed for a period of two hours between the time of opening and closing the polls, and such voter shall not, because of so absenting himself, be liable to any penalty nor shall any deduction be made, on account of such absence, from his usual salary or wages: Provided, however, that application for such leave of absence shall be made prior to the day of the primary. The employer may specify the hours during which said employee may absent himself.

Section 5. At least thirty-three days before a primary election the State, Congressional, and Senatorial committee, respectively, of each political party shall file in the office of the county clerk of the county within which the primary is to be held, or with the Board of Election Commissioners, a call for the State, Congressional, and Senatorial conventions. Said call shall state among other things, the time and place of holding the State, Congressional, and Senatorial conventions, respectively, the total number of delegates which shall compose each of said conventions, and the call for the State convention shall state the number of delegates that each county is entitled to in the State convention; and the call for the Congressional and Senatorial conventions shall state, among other things, the number of delegates to which each county, or political sub-division of any county, as the case may be, is entitled to in the respective Congressional and Senatorial convention; and the call for the County convention shall be filed in the office of the county clerk of the county within which the primary is to be held, or with the Board of Election Commissioners, at least thirty (30) days before a primary election, said call shall also state, among other things, the number of delegates that each delegate district is entitled to in the State, Congressional, Senatorial, County, Sanitary District, Municipal convention for the nomination of such municipal officers as are to be elected at the November election, respectively, which said calls shall each be signed by the chairman and attested by the secretary of the respective committees. The number of delegates from each of the several delegate districts shall be apportioned equally to the number of votes of such political party in each such district as shown by the last preceding presidential election returns. In case there shall be in any Congressional or Senatorial district, or in any county, more than one committee claiming to be the regular central committee of such district or county, then, and in that case, the central committee selected by the convention, whose candidates were placed on the official ballot in 1904, shall be recognized as the central committee authorized to make the call under this act in the year 1906.

Section 6. At least five days before each primary election, the county clerk of each county, or where there is a board of election commissioners, such board shall prepare a printed, or partly printed and partly written notice of such primary election for each delegate district in such county, which notice shall state the name of the political party calling the primary, the time and places of holding the primary election, the hours during which the polls shall be open, the various conventions to compose which delegates are to be chosen at such primary election, and shall also mail two copies of such notice to each primary election judge, duly addressed to his residence or place of business. It shall be the duty of each primary election judge to post both of said notices in a public and conspicuous place in his election precinct at least three days prior to such primary election.

Section 7. The judges and clerks of the general election in each election precinct, or election district, as the case may be, shall be and are hereby constituted judges and clerks of all primary elections in their respective precincts; no more than two of such judges and clerks, and where there is a board of election commissioners, no more than one such clerk, shall be affiliated with the same political party. If at the time for the opening of a primary election, one or two of the primary judges or clerks are absent or refuse to act, the judge or judges present, as the case may be, shall appoint some qualified primary elector or electors in such precinct of the same political parties, to fill such vacancy or vacancies. If all of the judges be absent or refuse to act the primary electors present, residing in the election precinct shall elect three of their number to act as such primary judges. The persons so elected must be of the same political party and of like number, as those persons whose places they are selected to fill. The judges and clerks so selected and appointed, shall have the same powers, perform the same duties, and be subject to the same penalties as regularly constituted primary election judges and clerks.

All persons actually serving as judges and clerks at any primary election, whether sworn in or not, shall be deemed to be, and are hereby declared to be, officers of the county court of the respective county; and such persons shall be liable to punishment by such court in a proceeding for contempt for any misbehavior as such judge or clerk, to be tried in open court on oral testimony, in a summary manner, without written pleadings; but such trial or punishment for contempt of court shall not be any bar to any criminal proceedings against such primary judges or clerks for any violation of this Act.

Section 8. The judges of election shall permit each different ticket of delegates to be represented by a challenger, chosen by a majority of those named for delegates on such ticket. Such challengers shall be protected in the discharge of their duties by the judges of such primary election and peace officers; and shall be permitted to remain within the polling place in such position as will enable them to see each person as he offers his vote, and said challenger may remain within the polling place throughout the canvass of the vote, and until the returns are signed. All challengers shall be qualified electors in their respective precincts, and shall have the same powers as challengers at general elections.

Section 9. All officers upon whom is imposed by law the duty of designating and providing polling places for general elections shall provide in each such polling place so designated and provided, a sufficient number of booths for such primary election; which booths shall be provided with shelves, such supplies and pencils as will enable the voter to prepare his ballot for voting and in which voters may prepare their ballots screened from all observation as to the manner in which they do so; and the guard rail shall be so constructed and placed that only such persons as are inside said rail can approach within six feet of the ballot box and of such voting booths. The arrangement shall be such that the voting booths can only be reached by passing within said guard rail. Such booths shall be within plain view of the election officers, and both they and the ballot boxes shall be within plain view of those outside the guard rail. No person other than the election officers and the challengers allowed by law, and those admitted for the purpose of voting as hereinafter provided, shall be permitted within the guard rail, except by authority of the election officers to keep order and enforce the law. The number of such voting booths shall not be less than one to every seventy-five voters or fraction thereof who voted at the last preceding election in the precinct or election district.

Section 10. The County Clerk of each county, or the Board of Election Commissioners, as the case may be, shall prepare and deliver to the judges of each election precinct or election district, one regular election ballot box, two lists of registered voters, wherever such lists are printed, and two registry poll books for such precinct or district, also sufficient poll books, tally sheets, blank affidavits, oaths, statement of votes, and all other blanks, papers and supplies necessary to carry out the provisions of this Act.

Section 30. The primary judges shall receive from any person or persons, and permit to be freely and equally exposed in separate and orderly piles, within the polling place, near the ballot box, and within reach of the voters, a sufficient supply of each of the various delegate ballots of each political party.

Section 31. Upon the opening of the polls one of the primary election judges shall make proclamation of the same; and at least thirty minutes before the closing of the polls, proclamation shall be made in like manner that the polls will be closed in half an hour.

Section 32. Before voting begins the ballot box shall be emptied, and it shall be opened and shown to those present, to be empty, after which it shall be locked and the key delivered to one of the primary judges, and such ballot box shall not be moved from public view from the time it was shown to be empty until after close of the polls.

Section 33. No person shall vote at any primary election unless he shall be a legally qualified voter, and unless he has resided in the election precinct or election district at least thirty (30) days prior to the date of the primary election, and unless he declares his party affiliation, as required by this act, and in all cases where registration is required, as a condition precedent to voting at regular elections, only registered voters shall be permitted to vote at such primary election.

And no person shall be allowed to vote at a primary election who shall have signed the petition of a candidate of any party with which he does not affiliate, when such candidate is to be voted for at the primary election.

And no person shall be allowed to vote who shall have signed the nominating petition of an independent candidate for any office for which office candidates are to be voted for at said primary election, or if he shall have voted at the primary election of another political party within the period of one year next preceding such primary election.

Section 34. Any person desiring to vote at a primary election shall state his name, residence and party affiliation to the primary judges, one of whom shall thereupon announce the same in a distinct tone of voice, sufficiently loud to be heard by those present in the polling place. If the person desiring to vote is not challenged, one of the primary judges shall give to him one, and only one, official primary ballot of the political party with which he declares himself affiliated, on the back of which such primary judge shall endorse his initials in such manner as they may be seen when the official primary ballot is properly folded. If the person desiring to vote is challenged, he shall not receive an official primary ballot from the primary judges until he shall have established his right to vote, as hereinafter provided. No person who refuses to state his party affiliation shall be allowed to vote at a primary election.

Section 35. Whenever a person offering to vote at a primary election is challenged, the person so challenged shall make and subscribe an affidavit in the following form, which shall be presented to and retained by the primary judges and clerks, and returned by them with the registry poll books:

State of Illinois, } ss.
County of }

I,, do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I am a citizen of the United States, of the age of twenty-one years or over, and am qualified to vote under and by virtue of the constitution and laws of the State of Illinois, and am a legally qualified voter of this precinct and delegate district; that I now reside at (insert street and number, if any) in this precinct and delegate district, and am a member of and affiliated with the party, and have not voted at a primary election of another political party within a period of one year prior to this date.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this day of A. D. 190.....

Judge of Election.

In addition to such affidavit the person so challenged shall produce the affidavit of one householder of the election precinct or election district who shall be a qualified voter at such primary election, and who shall be personally known or proved to the judges to be a householder in the election precinct or election district, which affidavit shall be in the following form:

State of Illinois, } ss.
County of }

I,, do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I am a householder of this election precinct or election district and entitled to vote at this primary election, that I am acquainted with (name of the party challenged) whose right to vote at this primary election has been challenged; that I know him to be an actual bona fide resident of this election precinct or election district, and that he has resided herein thirty days and I verily believe he has resided in this county ninety days; and in this State one year next preceding this primary election; that I verily believe he is a member and affiliated with the party.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this day of A. D. 190....

Judge of Election.

Section 36. On receiving from the judges an official primary ballot of his party, and having a delegate ballot of his party, the voter shall forthwith and without leaving the polling place, retire alone to one of the voting booths and prepare such official primary ballot by making a cross (X) in the square in front of and opposite the name of each candidate of his choice for each office to be filled.

Section 37. Before leaving the booth the voter shall fold his official primary ballot in such manner as to conceal the marks thereon. He shall also, before leaving the booth, fold the delegate ballot to be voted by him in such manner that none of the printed or written matter on the inside thereof shall be visible. Said voter shall then vote forthwith by handing the primary judge the official primary ballot received by such voter and by delivering to the primary judge one, and only one, delegate ballot of the party with which he declares himself affiliated. Such primary judge shall thereupon mark with pencil the initials of his own name on the back of such delegate ballot as it is folded. Thereupon the primary judge shall deposit such official primary ballot and such delegate ballot, in the ballot box. The primary clerk shall thereupon enter in the registry poll books the name of the voter, his residence and his party affiliation.

Section 38. Any primary elector who may declare upon oath that he cannot read the English language, or that by reason of any physical disability he is unable to mark his official primary ballot, shall, upon request, be assisted in marking his official primary ballot in the same manner as provided by the general election laws of this State; and shall also, upon request, be assisted in selecting and preparing his delegate ballot.

Section 39. After the opening of the polls at a primary election, no adjournment shall be had, nor recess taken until all the votes cast at such primary election shall have been counted and canvassed.

Section 40. The votes shall be canvassed in the room or place where the primary election is held and the primary judges shall not allow the ballot box or any of the ballots, or the registry poll books, or any of the tally sheets to be removed or carried away from such room or polling place until the canvass of the votes is completed and the returns carefully enveloped and sealed up. Each of the judges is hereby empowered to administer and certify oaths required during a primary election.

Section 41. If a primary elector marks more names upon any official primary ballot than there are persons to be nominated as candidates for an office, or if, for any reason, it is impossible to determine the primary elector's choice of a candidate for the nomination for an office, his official primary ballot shall not be counted for the nomination for such office.

No official primary ballot or delegate ballot, without the endorsement of the judges' initials thereon, shall be counted. Any judge wilfully omitting to endorse his initials on official primary ballots or delegate ballots, as required by this act, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and punishable by a fine not exceeding one hundred dollars for each offense.

Official primary ballots not counted shall be marked "defective" on the back thereof; and official primary ballots to which objection has been made by either of the primary judges or challengers shall be marked "objected to" on the back thereof; and a memorandum signed by the primary judges stating how it was counted shall be written upon the back of each official primary ballot so marked, and all official primary ballots marked "defective" or "objected to" shall be inclosed in an envelope and securely sealed, and so marked and endorsed as to clearly disclose its contents.

All official primary ballots not voted, and all that have been spoiled by voters while attempting to vote, shall be returned by the primary judges to the County Clerk or Board of Election Commissioners and a receipt taken therefor, and shall be preserved three months. Such official shall keep a record of the number of official primary ballots delivered for each polling place, the name of the person to whom and the time when delivered, and he or they shall also enter upon such record the number and character of official primary ballots returned, with the time when and the persons by whom they are returned.

Section 42. Unless delegate ballots comply substantially with this act in size and color, the same shall be void for all purposes, and shall not be received, deposited or counted by any primary judge at any such primary election; and all delegate ballots not in accordance with the provisions of this act, and which by any mistake may have been deposited in the ballot box shall be void and shall be marked "defective" on the back thereof; but no delegate ballot shall be defective because the primary elector depositing the same has named upon it a less number of delegates than such primary elector is entitled to vote for. If the primary elector votes for more persons than there are delegates to be elected to a certain convention, or if for any reason it is impossible for the primary judges to determine the voter's choice, such delegate ballot, or part thereof, shall not be counted. Delegate ballots not counted shall be marked "defective" on the back thereof and delegate ballots to which objection has been made by either of the primary judges or challengers shall be marked "objected to" on the back thereof, and a memorandum signed by the judges, stating how it was counted, shall be written upon the back of each delegate ballot so marked; and all delegate ballots marked "defective" or "objected to" shall be inclosed in an envelope, securely sealed, and so marked and endorsed as to clearly disclose its contents.

Section 43. Immediately upon closing the polls, the primary judges shall proceed to canvass the votes polled in manner following:

(1) They shall first separate the official primary ballots from the delegate ballots, rejecting all ballots upon which the initials of a primary judge do not appear.

(2) The primary judges shall then proceed to ascertain the number of names entered on the registry poll books under each party affiliation.

(3) If the official primary or delegate ballots of any political party exceed the number of names of voters of such political party entered on the registry poll books, the official primary ballots and the delegate ballots of such political party shall be folded and replaced in the ballot box, each separately, and the box closed and well shaken and again opened; and one of the judges, who shall be blindfolded, shall draw out and destroy so many of the official primary ballots and delegate ballots respectively of such political party as shall be equal to such excess.

(4) The primary judges shall thereupon arrange the official primary ballots and the delegate ballots of each political party in separate piles.

(5) The primary judges shall then proceed to count the official primary ballots of each political party separately; and as the primary judges shall open and read the official primary ballot, each primary clerk shall carefully and correctly mark upon the tally sheets the votes which each candidate of the party whose name is written or printed on the official primary ballot has received in a separate column for that purpose, with the name of such candidate, the name of his political party and the name of the office for which he is a candidate for nomination, at the head of such column.

(6) The primary judges shall then proceed to count the delegate ballots of each political party separately, in accordance with the provisions of an act entitled "An Act to dispense with individual tally marks in canvassing the so-called 'straight ticket' at all elections hereafter held in this State; and concerning the duties of the clerks in the canvass of votes at such election," approved May 13, 1905, in force July 1, 1905.

Section 44. As soon as the ballots of a political party shall have been read, and the votes of said political party counted, as provided in the last above section, the primary clerks shall foot up the tally sheets so as to show the total number of votes cast for each candidate of each said political party and the total number of votes cast for each delegate to the State, Congressional, Senatorial, Sanitary District, Municipal, where municipal officers are to be elected at the November election, and County conventions respectively, and the total number of votes cast by said political party and certify the same to be correct. Thereupon the primary judges shall set down in the registry poll books, under the name of said political party, the name of each candidate voted for upon the official primary ballot, written at full length, the name of the office for which he is a candidate for nomination, the total number of votes which said candidate received, and the total number of votes cast by said political party at said primary election, and the primary election judges shall certify the same to be true and correct; said entry in the registry books to be made substantially in the following form:

Section 60. Any candidate whose name appears upon the official primary ballot of any political party in any delegate district may contest the primary election held in said county or any of the districts thereof, as to the office for which he was a candidate for nomination by filing with the clerk of the county court of the county in which such district is located a petition in writing, setting forth the grounds of contest, which petition shall be verified by affidavit of the petitioner. The case may be heard and determined by the county court in term time, or by the judge thereof in vacation, at any time not less than two days after service of process, and shall have preference in the order of hearing to all other cases. The petitioner shall give security for all costs.

If, in the opinion of the court in which the petition is filed, the grounds for contest alleged are insufficient in law, the petition shall be dismissed. If the grounds alleged in the petition are sufficient, the court shall proceed in a summary manner, and may hear evidence, examine the returns, recount the ballots and make such orders and enter such judgments as justice may require. The court shall hear and determine the case before the date fixed by law for the county convention. The judgment of the court shall be final.
